

With the recent punishments of many radio and television shows for obscene material I started thinking. I asked myself what is the most offensive thing to me that gets aired. I mean everyone else gets a say so, so I came up with it the most offensive thing to me is Erectile Dysfunction medication commercials. This agency doesn't want kids seeing bare breast what about them knowing about erectile dysfunction at age eight or nine to me that is offensive so to be fair take this off too.